MISS WILMA M. SCHIELDS

DEDICATION

THE CLASS OF 1948 DEDICATES ITS YEARBOOK
THE MANET
TO MISS WILMA M. SCHIELDS
WHOSE CEASELESS EFFORTS AND INSPIRING LEADERSHIP
TRULY REPRESENT THE NORTH SPIRIT.

FOREWORD

The class of 1948 is now leaving the very familiar surroundings of North Quincy High School and is about to start on new and varied careers. After six years at North, there are many things to remember: the many valuable friendships which were made with both the faculty and the student body; the events which took place, thrilling, happy, memorable in every way; the good times and honors which came to everyone. It is the sincere hope of those who made this book that it will be instrumental in keeping fresh the memory of the high school joys which can so easily fade away.

CLASS HISTORY

During the course of human events, man's fondest memories often come from the time he was in high school. Such a wealth of experiences cannot but leave many deep impressions in his mind. Whether these impressions be humorous or thoughtful, they all contribute to his development and give him a sturdy foundation on which to build the rest of his life.

Perhaps he recalls a perfectly silent study room. Suddenly, the bell sounds for the end of the second lunch, and preparations for The Olympics are on. Spontaneously desks slam, lunch bags crackle, locker doors bang, bits of conversation fill the air. Everyone is waiting for the signal. The second bell and they're off! Fourth floor, third floor, second floor, cafeteria! "That's my seat. Get up." "Let me in line in front of you, will ya?" "Has anybody got an extra penny?" Oh, good old lunch period!

He may remember a wonderful dance if he is thinking of "Cupid's Choice" or the Prom, but they weren't all like that. He remembers the ninth grade afternoon dances when no boys came and the girls couldn't dance? Or maybe he remembers the time he went stag and thought no one would ever dance with him. It seemed pretty terrible at the time, no doubt, but it wasn't really so cataclysmic.

Maybe he becomes thoughtful when he remembers the Memorial Day programs during the war, or the death of such good friends as Mr. McGowan and Miss Olive Hunt, or the sacrifices made by many of the alumni. Only afterward does he realize how much he misses the enthusiasm, the advice, or the understanding of those teachers who have left.

The North spirit wells up within him when he relives those exciting moments of football, basketball, baseball, hockey, track, golf. He sees the band (with those new black trousers), and the drill team, and the cheerleaders out in front lending color and unity and precision.

From among his individual pursuits and extra-curricula activities he finds at least one favorite reflection. It may be the way the ninth grade members of the Junior Student Council "ran" the junior school, or the excitement and suspense of the trips to the Tech Tourney or the Thanksgiving games with Quincy. Possibly it is the Girls' Club picnic, the gym demonstration, or the class play.

Maybe the most vivid memory is of an ordinary class. Every girl remembers the towel she had to hem that was in shreds before she finished because the stitches had to be ripped out so many times, or the stuffed egg that she got caught trying to deposit in a waste basket. That rush from the shower room to the Body Mechanics room in those electric-blue bloomer gym suits trying to avoid the stares and remarks of the opposite sex may have made a deep impression! Likewise, no boy will ever forget his first shop period and those delightful memo-pads and sink scoops, or the physics experiment that failed because he got the wires mixed up. Members of Mr. Walkden's class have the delightful recollection of the presentation of the hoe and the carnation in tune to "The Farmer in the Dell."

As a "Squantumnite" he cannot overlook his unique plight on a stormy day when the school bus couldn't get through. He could be expected around one o'clock—just in time to pack up and go home again. Oh, happy memory!

Finally he recalls that confused feeling of "What am I going to do next year?" To some this may have meant filling out applications and taking College Boards. To others it may have meant hunting for a job. But, whichever it meant his experiences gathered in high school will never let him down; he will cling to his memories and build on them!

Activities

Getting out a Manet is no “snap”; no, it involves much hard work. That accounted for the amount of feverish activity that went on in 424: the editorial staff madly trying to think of a last sentence for that writeup; the art group hastily laying out the second dummy and trying to conceive a use for that extra page; the commercial staff mimeographing, and typing 200 words a minute to meet that ever-looming deadline; the advertising staff scouring the countryside for that one last advertisement. Oh, yes, there was work, ever so much, but in retrospect it certainly seems worth it, especially when those thick scarlet books arrived from the printer!

The Class of 1948 got off to a fast start by sponsoring "Autumn Serenade," an informal dance, on October 4, 1947, an enterprising and remunerative undertaking; in fact, about eighty-five dollars was made. The dance was enjoyed by all of the many people who attended.

The long-awaited class play was the first major activity of the new year. An appreciative audience warmly expressed its approval of the work of the cast, which presented "The Show-Off" under the direction of Mr. Hofferty. The boastful Aubrey Piper and the quick-witted Mrs. Fisher delighted all who attended this outstanding performance.

April 2, the class sponsored its second informal dance. In our own gymnasium many couples danced to the stimulating music of a fine orchestra.

The Prom is the most colorful event of the senior year, and this year's was no exception. On May 28, in the gaily decorated Quincy Armory, the happy couples danced at their last formal gathering before graduation. The girls in their graceful evening gowns and the boys in their formal clothes presented an unforgettable and heart warming picture.

Junior Class

Under the leadership of its officers, the Junior Class has been able to make this year both profitable and memorable through a limited number of activities. You remember the "Silhouette Serenade" and the "Snow Ball" don't you? And, of course, you recall the Junior Class semi-formal that was held in the spring. These were colorful dances, and most pleasantly remembered.

Following a two-year precedent, the members of the Class of '49 voted to buy class rings this year. After Mr. Fowler paid his final visit in February, one could see many underclassmen proudly displaying their newly obtained jewelry.

Much of the credit for this year's success belongs to Miss Katherine McCoy, the class adviser and to the many pupils who served on the necessary committees. The officers whose tireless efforts made the year one which the entire class can be proud of were

"The meeting will please come to order."—And as the chatter ceases, the president, Roger Fisher, takes over another Monday morning meeting of the Student Council. "The business of today's meeting" may consist of sponsoring and encouraging the Red Cross, Community Fund, or March of Dimes collection, planning entertaining and educational assemblies, or cleaning up the school grounds and the cafeteria. Perhaps it includes new ideas and suggestions for the music program at lunch-time or committee appointments for the next dance. Whatever is "next on the agenda" is certain to be of great interest and importance to all North students. We always benefit by the heated discussions and enterprising plans of the representative members (under the understanding supervision of Mr. Noyes), and many of the school's most important contributions and improvements have come from the council.

We can be very proud of the contributions to the Red Cross, Community Fund, and March of Dimes this year—more money was collected than ever before!

With all these projects that the council undertakes, from winning the elections one year to planning them the following year, we can easily see why the Senior Student Council ranks among the highest of service organizations in the school.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society gives recognition to outstanding students on the basis of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. Its objects are to encourage exploration and development of these qualities and to identify future leaders for school and country. Each year it is possible to have a membership equal to fifteen percent of the graduating class. That means that this year from two hundred and eighty-three seniors forty-five students will be the maximum membership. The new members, chosen by a faculty committee, are required to be in the upper third of their class and must have good reports of service and leadership.

Last year the National Honor Society held an impressive induction, and Mr. Collins gave pins and membership cards to the newly elected members. While the chapters of many schools have active membership with projects of their own, the chapter at North has an honorary membership because all its members participate in a great many other activities.

Again this year, eleven members of the society will be allowed to compete with pupils of 1,274 other schools for ten three hundred dollar scholarships. In each of the two previous times that our members have participated, one member has received a certificate of merit. Those receiving the certificates were Carolyn McTear in 1946 and Irene O'Neil in 1947.

Miss Katherine Horrigan is the National Honor Society's capable adviser and the officers are president, Roger Fisher; vice-president, Virginia Roberts; secretary, Constance Keane; treasurer, Fred Chase.

What do you think of when you hear the words Senior Class Prom? Do you think of the rustle of lovely gowns, the scent of gorgeous corsages, the impressiveness of tuxedos, the lilt of laughter, and the length of the receiving line? Well, that's as it should be. But to a certain group of seniors, the prom committee, those three little words also meant a lot of hard work.

The responsibilities of planning and putting up decorations, sending invitations, arranging for an orchestra and ushers, choosing favors, and similar duties were the reasons for the furrowed brows and nervous twitches that the prom committee had for weeks before the big event.

But do you remember the pleased, happy countenances of everyone at the Quincy armory on the memorable night of May 28? They certainly made it apparent that this committee had done a wonderful piece of work in making the 1948 prom THE prom of all proms.

Class Play

"THE SHOW-OFF"

A comedy in three acts by George Kelley; produced January 31, 1948 in the North Quincy High School auditorium by the Class of 1948 with the settings by George V. Lord and direction by John Hofferty. The cast was as follows:

Clara	Patricia McNamara
Mrs. Fisher	Constance Keane
Amy	Joan Mueller
Frank Highland	William Schrader
Mr. Fisher	Roger Fisher
Joe	Robert McCarthy
Aubrey Piper	Donald MacKenzie
Mr. Gill	James Glover
Mr. Rogers	Lowell Albee

It is eleven years since "The Show-Off" was first presented at North as the dusty files revealed to this reviewer. Although time dates a good many plays, this box-office favorite has been "wrenched out of life," and thus is as authentic today as the day it was written.

Kelley does well by his actors; every one in "The Show-Off" has a good part. And for good measure, the play was superbly cast. The perfect timing and dramatic sense of Constance Keane and Donald MacKenzie, as the leads, established a new high at North. Robert McCarthy frolicked like a natural through the part of Joe. Lovely Patricia McNamara and gracious Joan Mueller were able as well as attractive. Dramatic vignettes not soon to be forgotten were Roger Fisher's father and James Glover's working man. Lowell Albee and William Schrader in straight roles realistically rounded out the cast. The direction of John Hofferty set a jolly pace for an evening of dramatic fun.

Once again the Commercial Department has proved greatly beneficial to the school by offering a secretarial service through the Student Secretarial Staff. In giving this service, the staff, consisting of energetic senior girls, has handled duplicating work for the teachers and has been of great assistance in the office, performing such tasks as typing, filing, and making out the list of pupils who are absent. Because of the new six-period schedule, permanent secretarial assignments have been made only to department heads. However, by means of a secretarial pool, made up of girls willing to work in their free time, other secretarial work has been taken care of.

Needless to say, the services of every member of the staff have been invaluable to the school as a whole. In addition, the girls on the staff have found the work to be of value because of the practical experience it affords, experience which will mean a great deal when they apply for positions.

Under the able direction of Miss Gormley, the Student Secretarial Staff has become an indispensable service to North.

Library Staff

Probably one of the most energetic clubs at North is the Library Staff. The bundles of feminine energy, patience, and perseverance that call themselves members really deserve a vote of thanks from all the harried pupils and teachers who dash down to the library and hope to find books and magazines in two seconds flat—and who doesn't?

And when you forget to leave your book in the Social Studies Laboratory before school, or when you leave the wrong end of your library slip in your study room, who fixes it up? Why, the Library Staff, of course!

It isn't a case of all work and no play, however. The group has its social side as well. There's the annual Mothers' Tea, the trip to Miss Pratt's cottage, and the Square Dance—all of which are planned and enjoyed by the girls, Miss Sherman, and Miss Pratt.

The orchestra plays a very important part in some of the outstanding events of the school year. The first time that the orchestra had a chance to show off its talents was at the Christmas assembly. In order to help put on such an impressive program, the members of the orchestra had to give up many hours of leisure time for rehearsals.

The orchestra again took the spotlight at the Spring Concert. The orchestra's presentation certainly showed many long hours of practicing in 402.

At the Radio Club's devotional programs on Monday morning, members of the orchestra and also the orchestra as a unit played impressive songs that were broadcast to all the school.

North Quincy High has always maintained a high standard in the musical field. Under the capable direction of Miss Beatrice Fitts, our orchestra has maintained its tradition of excellence.

Glee Club

La duce! Oops—watch those high notes! Yes, it's the Glee Club rehearsing under the capable supervision of Miss Fitts.

Glee Club this year has been much more than an organization for the expression of vocal talent and for providing musical entertainment at Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter, and Memorial Day. Besides spending many "third period-Wednesdays" and after school hours rehearsing for these regular programs, the club sent a representation to the New England Music Festival in South Portland, Maine, entered and received high ratings at the Eastern Massachusetts Choral Festival in Brockton, and presented its own Spring Concert here at school.

The precedent set last spring at the combined social of Band, Glee Club, and Orchestra members was carried through this year to the immense enjoyment of everybody. Also, after the night rehearsals, refreshments were served.

A new type of program was presented, too, this year. The Easter broadcast, conducted by Miss Fitts and Mr. Nelson, was a unique way of displaying North's vocal talent to the general public.

Toot! Toot! Boom! Boom! Clang! Clang!

These are the familiar echoes from 402 every Tuesday during the third period.

During the course of the school year, the band plays an important part in many activities. It is indispensable to the success of the football games. Many afternoons find the band on the front lawn practicing in order to make the time between halves interesting.

A very important unit in this complicated letter making is the Drum Major-ettes. These girls leading the band up the field, twirling and high kicking, are really something to see. Our Drum Major-ettes really make it interesting wherever they go.

The band's hardest job comes with the practicing for the Music Festival and the Spring Concert. For many weeks before the festival, the band has several rehearsals a week in 402 to learn its new concert pieces. As usual, the band received a very high rating at the festival.

Besides taking part in school activities the band supports many other worthwhile causes. During the Armistice Day and Memorial Day ceremonies, the North Band lends much color and meaning.

This year Miss Fitts has again directed the band through a most successful season. The officers of the band are the following: Richard Stoye, president; Allan Fortnam, vice-president; Robert Erickson, treasurer; Marjorie Lemon, secretary; and Lloyd Green, business manager.

Drill Team

Who are those lovely creatures? Why, they're members of the North Quincy High School Drill Team. Those snappy little lassies in red and black costumes have worked many hours under the direction of Miss McCoy. Many nights after school when the rest of the students have left, these girls are seen out on the lawn twirling those shining silver streaks of metal.

At every football game, both at home and away, the twenty-six bright splashes of color drew applause from all the spectators for the enthusiasm and spirit they added to the games. In early March, the girls travelled to Boston Gardens to cheer for their team in the Eastern Massachusetts Tournament where they made a hit with the several thousand fans. Throughout the year the Drill Team participated in several parades to the delight of the many spectators.

One of the many reasons why the senior year is the most exciting year of all for the girls at North is the experience of belonging to the Girls' Club. Each year new touches are added to the same activities to make them just as much fun and of as much value.

What activities? To name them all would take more room than is available. The first one of the year was a picnic at Squaw Rock. To have seen the girls, one would have thought that the Indians had returned and taken over their old stamping ground. The biggest social event of the year was the Valentine's Day semi-formal, Cupid's Choice.

The Red Cross show combined entertainment with service, since all the proceeds were contributed to that organization. The Christmas play had everyone howling; consequently, the executive board members, who wrote and produced it, were very pleased. The Christmas party was as jovial as Santa Claus himself. The Mothers' Tea and Fashion Show was a huge success and a thrill to the girls who were chosen to model in it. Such worthwhile activities as supervising the school's Thanksgiving and Christmas collections to the Welfare League and arranging entertainments for children were also part of their varied program.

The parties, the benefit shows, services, dances . . . but why write about them all! Ask any senior girl to tell about them and along with her account there will be a glowing expression of happy remembrances.

A club that offers fun and the opportunity to perform worthwhile services is North's Tri-Hi-Y. Its purpose is "to create and maintain throughout the community high standards of Christian character."

To end the year in an entertaining and memorable way, the girls went on an outing to the Y. M. C. A. camp down the Cape. Swimming, eating, playing cards and games, and singing were only part of the fun. Remember those adventurous girls who rowed out to an island with only sticks for oars? By extremely strenuous exertion, they managed to reach shore in time to collapse on the bus for the ride home.

If last September, anyone saw a group of seemingly escaped maniacs roaming the streets in indescribable outfits, they were not seeing mirages; they were witnessing the grueling initiation of North's Tri-Hi-Y members. At a later date, there was an impressive installation during which the purpose and more serious aspect of Tri-Hi-Y was set forth.

During the school year, the girls met every Tuesday night at the Quincy Y. M. C. A. for lectures and movies on fashions, personality, and world and civic activities. The members helped in the Community Fund drive, besides taking up a collection for CARE and adopting a European child for a year. Joint meetings with other Tri-Hi-Y's and Hi-Y's were held. There was an informal dance held on New Year's Eve.

With the help of advisers Miss Sawitsky and Miss Mary Sheriff, the officers who led the girls through a successful and worthwhile year were Joan Lennon, president; Jean Adams, vice-president; Phyllis Lanergan, secretary; and Barbara Kaulbeck, treasurer.

Tri-Hi-Y

Hi-Y

Every Wednesday night found the members of North's Hi-Y gathered at the Youth Canteen ready for an enjoyable evening. The purpose of the organization is to teach Christian living and to provide worthwhile entertainment for its members.

An impressive induction was conducted by a Hi-Y group from another city, and many interesting programs followed throughout the year. Movies on naval training were shown, and Carter Lee, director of athletics for the Quincy Schools, spoke, to mention but two. During the school year, meetings with other Hi-Y's and Tri-Hi-Y's provided opportunities for planning more widespread activities.

The advisers, Mr. Ballantine, and Mr. MacWilliams of North's faculty, helped arrange the various programs which were so popular.

The club, consisting of more than thirty boys, elected the following officers: Frank Hines, president; Arthur Morin, vice-president; Jack Bowen, secretary; and Charles McNally, treasurer.

North Quincy High School has been blessed this year with an enthusiastic and original newspaper staff. This group with much industry and intelligence has fearlessly probed the complicated school politics, covered the social activities, and run an exposé on cafeteria conditions.

This newspaper is calculated to appeal to all cultural levels: the editorials for the serious thinkers, the cartoons for the lighter minded, and the guess who's for the vacuous.

Our paper, besides keeping us posted on all school activities will furnish an invaluable link to the past in future years, for what brings more laughter and tears to a person than a realistic picture of his past?

Under the firm hand of Mr. Young, and the editor, Jesalyn Tate, the paper has striven to give all the students of North a chance to participate, and to show their talents in the field of journalism.

The staff of "47" wishes the staff of "48" success.

Biology Club

Hidden away in room 424, unknown to most students, is a small group of earnest dabblers in the various phases of applied and unapplied science. Undisturbed by the odor of formaldehyde these disciples of Darwin or Newton dissect, analyze, conject, and synthesize.

All activity, however, is not confined to mere laboratory drudgery. The members have been engaged in everything from raising chickens to vacationing at the Cape. From the chickens who finally died from pneumonia, and whose wake was attended by the entire club, much was learned about the lower forms of life. From the Cape trip information was gleaned about the higher forms of life.

Under the capable hand of Miss Schields, who does everything from directing club activities to washing deserted test tubes, the students are constantly guided into new and more fascinating fields.

This year's officers were

Well, here we are again. The Spanish Club has completed its third year at North. Since the club was organized in 1945, several diligent "estudiantes del espanol" have enjoyed the activities sponsored by the Club.

El Grupo de Charlar is the name which the club has taken this year. Nevertheless, the purpose is still the same: to learn to appreciate Spanish culture and to speak Spanish more fluently, and, of course, to have a good time. The main activity of El Grupo consists of a monthly meeting. At these meetings the members are supposed to talk only in Spanish. This can be very inconvenient but the members have developed a motto which relieves them in difficult situations—"When in doubt, guess!" This guessing often results in some perfectly wonderful words although non-existent.

Other activities which the group enjoys are Spanish dances, dinners, and lectures. Although the dances are hardly recognizable when the members are doing them, the chicos have a lot of fun. Some of them can actually do the steps right and try to teach others. Perhaps you have seen some interesting sights but you haven't seen anything until you've seen a combination rhumba and jitter-bug. At the dinner, although the hot-tamales are good, the food most consumed is water. The group appreciates Spanish food but prefers to eat American. At the lectures, the members especially enjoy the atmosphere and the dances afterward.

History Club

Little did Miss Pratt know what she was letting herself in for when she said she would sponsor the History Club. The purposes of the club are to learn and to have fun. They have wonderfully succeeded in doing both. In fact, the strange part about it is that they have made learning fun. This extraordinary feat was accomplished in several ways. One was attending the Chinese New Year celebration, an exotic and highly unusual affair. Probably one of the group's greatest privileges was meeting the only white woman ever to enter Tibet.

However, the group didn't rely wholly on outside speakers for its meetings. It had plenty of ingenuity of its own. This was made clear at those meetings when they played charades, that game in which an event is dramatized with neither props nor words. Roger Fisher and Janet Hadlock almost knocked each other out trying to make the others guess the Boxer Rebellion, while Eileen Wood and Barbara Knowles shot at each other for five minutes trying to portray the fight over the Panama Canal Zone.

The grand success of the club was the result of three things: the expert and friendly guidance of Miss Pratt; the active leadership of Ginny Roberts, the president; and the whole-hearted cooperation of the sixteen members. It is the hope of these sixteen seniors that the History Club will continue with the same enthusiasm with which it was begun, and that the twenty-one new members will get as much out of it as this year's did.

We won't begin with the customary terse commands: "Lights, Camera, Action!" We will confine ourselves, however, merely to "Action." This has been the keynote of the Motion Picture Operator's Club this year. To most departments in the school, the club has rendered its services. Recreationally, the club has taken an active part in projecting some of the popular and instructive films to an afternoon attendance. In athletics, it has been an aid to the coaches in showing films taken of the games in the course of the season. The club has shown three very important pictures about education with the faculty as an audience.

Membership in the organization has been voluntary, and customarily it is observed that only those boys thoroughly interested in projection work survive the vigorous period of instruction that one must undergo in order to qualify for an efficient projectionist. Aspirants for this position must pass tests on the various machines, such as slide, film slide, silent and sound projection, public address system, and wire recorder. Instructors are members of the club who have satisfactorily passed and operated all equipment. The girls have sometimes shown an interest, but have not persevered, perhaps because they were outnumbered.

The assignment of a projection room for our use this year shows the progress made, and we hope that in the future some improvement may be made in the location and adaptability of this very necessary space. Our Utopia is an acoustically correct projection booth, complete equipment, a room with graduated seats, complete black-out facilities, and seating capacity for about seventy pupils.

Traffic Squad

The hardy souls that constitute this group deserve a high award for courage in the pursuit of duty. They form lonely islands in a sea of confusion. Battered by currents from doorways, and the great gulf streams from the stairways, they are the dividing line between order and chaos.

The Esprit de Corps of this group is understandable when you consider the necessarily high qualifications of each member. Physically capable and morally strong enough to tear himself away from class two minutes early, he must also be smart enough to figure out which is his right hand after the crowd passes, and which channel leads him to his next port.

The captains, under the capable direction of Mr. Meaney, are Roger Fisher, Marion Kelleher, and Priscilla Olsson.

From 3-4 on Wednesday afternoons is the big hour for all athletically minded girls at North. At this time we take over the gym for our favorite sport, basketball. Miss McCoy was delighted to see sixty of us report that first afternoon in December. Some were newcomers hoping to have a few lessons on the sport, and the rest of us were there for our sixth season. We formed teams and returned week after week to play among ourselves. At the end of the season, the four best teams had play-offs and the winning team was decided.

Girls Sports

Although we enjoyed playing basketball, the warm weather induced us to get outside. Most of us now chose softball as our favorite sport. However, Miss McCoy arranged badminton and ping-pong tournaments for those who preferred these games. All were able to get exercise and enjoyment with the opportunities both inside and outside school.

In connection with Parents' Night in May, Miss McCoy planned a gym demonstration. The program by the senior high girls included Danish gymnastics, modern dancing, marching fundamentals, and advanced marching. The junior high girls demonstrated Swedish gymnastics, ballroom dancing, tap dancing and tumbling. This program was held to show our parents some of the work done in gym classes.

Look out, everybody! Duck! Run for cover!

The reason for all this commotion? Why the Rifle Club, of course. The members are engaged in one of their bi-weekly practice engagements at the Quincy School. A person actually travels in this neighborhood at his own risk. From October 1, through the April vacation, the duration of the club's schedule, the insurance companies refuse to insure anything or anybody in the vicinity of the Quincy School. Seriously though, for their diligent practice and the high scores obtained by the team, they should be congratulated.

The schedule of the Rifle Team is unique. Frequently they go to some other school for a match on a day's notice. As far as team competition is concerned, they shoot with the best of them. They had two matches each with Malden, Melrose, Braintree, and Quincy; of course beating Quincy.

One innovation of the Rifle Club is the entrance of girls to this skillful sport. Of course, this resulted in a "boys versus girls" match to decide who had the deadlier aim. The girls won both matches which were handicap matches by scores of 478-475 and 480-477. The boys contended that they shot below par. (In team competition, they have averaged about 485.)

Their final events, and some of the most important, were matches sponsored by the National Rifle Association. In the postal matches, our club entered teams in three divisions: senior boys, girls, and junior boys and girls under fifteen. The boys later fired the course required by the Director of Civilian Marksmanship, attempting to qualify for War Department medals. Although this sport can be enjoyed by many, it is especially helpful to the boys, most of whom will enter the armed forces. The officers are: Fred Chase, president; Margaret Crozier, vice-president; Larry Maibach, secretary-treasurer.

Bowling Club

Strike! Spare! Ten! That's what an onlooker heard every Monday afternoon over at the Norfolk Downs Alleys when the Girls' Bowling Club from North started knocking down the pins. Yes, this year there was a good club, every girl having a commendable average.

Under the supervision of Miss McCoy, they bowled three strings every week at a convenient reduction of prices. There was never a dull moment! Someone was either getting a strike or a big, juicy zero. Hmm! It must have been the alley; it couldn't have been the bowler. Oops! That girl bowling at the very end just went half way down the alley; the next time she will remember her sneakers.

But in spite of humorous incidents, each member had a wonderful time besides getting in a lot of practice. The highest single for the year was Marilyn DiCarlo's score of 125 followed by Jeanne Desmond's 109. All thirty-five girls faithfully attended the Monday meetings.

As officers of the Club, the girls chose

The rider mounts his saddle and feels the spirited steed beneath him. Suddenly, the guide looks in amazement; instead of going down the trail, the rider is going up the hill. The guide shouts, "Come back! Where do you think you're going?"

And the rider calls out in perplexed tones, "How do you put it in reverse? I can't get it to back up!"

"Kick it in the ribs! Kick it in the ribs!" shouts the guide.

"Where are the ribs?" asks the bewildered rider. And here we leave the rider, hoping he returns safely with no damage to himself or his trusty steed. After a hard day of bouncing all over the Blue Hills, one may be sure the members of the Riding Club are ready for a good supper and a soft bed.

Organized in April of 1947, under the enthusiastic direction of Mr. Sclarenco, the club's main purposes are riding for enjoyment as well as for exercise, and enjoying nature at its best. Because of the extra-large quantity of bad New England weather, the club was forced to suspend its activities for the winter, but with the advent of spring it reappeared, fired with new zeal. In spite of all the groans, the members enjoyed themselves thoroughly and always appeared in force at all meetings of this very popular club.

In the fall of 1947, the North Quincy football future appeared dim. Bill Bell, Lou DiBona, Bob Richards and Roy Shaughnessy were the only returning lettermen. However, Head Coach Jack Donahue and Assistant Coach Jack Mullarkey soon molded a team out of the material on hand. As the season progressed, it became evident that the first team consisted of fourteen men. These fourteen carried practically the whole load of the season except when a high score allowed the liberal use of substitutes. The first team consisted of Lou DiBona and Joe Riley at ends, Bill Bell and Joe Collins at tackles, Steve Moynihan, Roger Chambers, and Jim Pontes at guards, and Paul Bohannon at center. In the backfield were Jack Gilbody, Roy Shaughnessy, Sid Cedrone, Bob Richards, Paul McGuiggan, and Bob Welch.

This year the South Shore Jamboree was held in the Quincy Stadium with North as host. In the abbreviated exhibition game, North had the better of the going against Rockland High. The first official game of the season pitted North against a strong, heavy Watertown team. The result was a 13 to 13 draw, but it was a moral victory for the Raiders. Next the Red and Black faced Braintree, and, by virtue of Roy Shaughnessy's trained right toe, came out on top 14 to 13. Dedham was the next victim 12 to 7. Then followed four straight home games and four straight victories. North scored early against Weymouth on a forward pass from Gilbody to DiBona who lateraled to Cedrone and then held the highly favored Maroons scoreless, outplaying them all the way. The final score of that big game was 7 to 0. The following week Hingham was thoroughly crushed 27 to 0. Then Danvers was eliminated 25 to 0. The next Saturday, for the twelfth consecutive year, the Wealthy Towners from Milton were unsuccessful in their crusade to beat North. A 19 to 12 setback added another to our list of victories in this series. The Raider's next stop was Winthrop where they overwhelmed their hosts 27 to 6. Back home again, Norwood went down to a 28 to 6 defeat. The season was complete except for the big game with Quincy High on Thanksgiving morning. The Blues were heavy favorites and although Sid Cedrone scored first for North on a pass from Richards, the Quincy High Team came back to score nineteen points in the second and third periods to win 19 to 6.

This year in every game North had at least two co-captains. One was always Roy Shaughnessy who made most of the decisions on penalties, and the other was a different boy each week. On Thanksgiving, the four returned lettermen, Bill Bell, Lou DiBona, Bob Richards, and Roy Shaughnessy were co-captains.

The season's record of eight wins, one loss, and one tie is one of the best in the school's history. It is the first time any North team has won eight consecutive games in one season, and is also the first time any team has gone through nine games in one season without being beaten. Thus, the class of 1948, in its three years at North, has an enviable record of twenty-two victories, four losses, and two ties. In its last twenty-three games, North has scored at least one touchdown. By scoring 178 points to their opponent's 76, the team, for the fourth year in succession, broke the school record. This year the Raiders were on top of the Class C title race from the beginning of the season up to the last game.

North's '48 basketball team started off with a bang by thrashing visiting Gloucester High of New Jersey, 53-20. Even at this early date. Coach John Mullarkey's quintet showed the polish and finesse that later brought them an Eastern Mass. tourney bid. Like a whirlwind they swept on, vanquishing Braintree 48 to 29 and then running wild over Weymouth, 63 to 28, before a capacity crowd of screaming North rooters. Then bang! A trip to Durfee found North on the short end of a 52-30 count. But after sampling the bitter dregs of defeat, the team rebounded with a decisive 46-33 triumph over Brockton. Recovering their high-scoring habits on the Boston Garden boards, North trampled the New Bedford club which had previously lost a 1 point overtime contest to Durfee High.

Now in the throes of another winning streak, they handily defeated Weymouth and Brookline by wide margins before journeying to Newton for one of the highlight clashes of the campaign. Leading by a single point at half-time, North "froze" the ball for seven minutes of the 3rd period before Cedrone sank a set shot from mid-point which further demoralized the Newton team. Holding them scoreless until late in the fourth period, North increased its lead and won going away. However, visiting Durfee once again broke North's winning streak, but this time only by a 10 point margin. Picking up speed again, North swept the five remaining games of the schedule, including two decisions over arch-rival Quincy.

As a climax to this highly successful season, North received a bid to participate in the Eastern Mass. Tourney. Jumping off to a 13-4 margin in the first period. North seemed to be on its way to an easy triumph. However, with a torrid surge in the 2nd period, the Red Devils from Everett fought to a 17-17 tie at intermission. A nip and tuck 3rd period saw Everett take a slight 22-20 lead. Hitting their stride, Everett ran up a 9-point lead early in the 4th period before North started to fight back. Capitalizing on a fast break and pressing tactics, three successive baskets put North within four points of a tie. As the crowd went wild, Cedrone scored from under the basket to make it 32-30 with 20 seconds to play. But the final bell cut short this spirited rally and brought failure to North's sixth attempt to land the Class "A" crown.

This year's high scoring combine was one of the best balanced in North's history. Paced once again by Captain Sid Cedrone, North tallied an average of 46 points per game while holding the opposition to a mere 26. "Sid," one of the most versatile athletes in the State, combined his excellent floor play with deadly accuracy to lead his team in scoring. Teaming with Cedrone in the scoring column was Al Strecker, one of the most improved players of the '48 Red Raider edition. Although virtually unknown at the beginning of the season, Al developed into one of the most prolific scorers of the South Shore. The only other veteran from last year's tourney team was "Richie" Sullivan, who displayed such aggressiveness and fight that he captured the hearts of the fans. Tall Tom Finneran, the sixth man on the '47 quintet, showed his adeptness in controlling both backboards. Tom frequently hit double figures by his patented hook shots. Normie Nelson, another rebound king, coupled his defensive ability with his backboard work to become one of the most dependable performers. Especially noteworthy was his holding Andy Farrissey, Durfee's high scoring center, to six points, and his outstanding tourney play.

During the latter days of March, North's battery candidates began their workouts in the gymnasium. Because of the harsh weather conditions, outdoor practice had to be postponed until the April vacation. A frequent scene during this waiting period was a gathering of eager candidates in coach Hal Forest's room, asking for an earlier date. However, realizing the danger of sore arms and other injuries, Mr. Forest wisely held off practice until warmer weather set in.

Strengthened by the return of no less than eight lettermen, Sid Cedrone, Paul McGuiggan, Tom Finneran, George Johnson, "Swede" Ericson, Paul Bohannon, Jim Kenny, and Ed Kelly, the team is strong enough to receive possibly an Eastern Mass. tourney bid. Among these lettermen are included five infielders, a complete battery, and one outfielder. Sid Cedrone is expected to lead the club in batting as he did the previous year with a lofty mark of .522. A great deal of competition is anticipated for all positions especially for the outfielder berths.

The schedule will include home and away games with such teams as Thayer, Weymouth, Braintree, Brockton, Hingham, winding up with two clashes with arch-rival Quincy High.

Moving up from last year's undefeated Junior Varsity squad are such promising candidates as Bob Danforth, Roger Fisher, Roy Shaugnessy, "Richie" Sullivan, Dick Norton, Bob Brigham, Bill Nichol, "Ace" Randall, and Wesley Burnham.

This season should show the results of Coach Forest's well-executed building plan over the past two years.

baseball

Hockey

At the season's half-way mark, North's hockey team had been beaten only once in four starts. Sizeable scores had been run up against Hingham twice and Brockton once before the team bowed to Brockton in a repeat performance. Led by North's Milt Schmidt, our diminutive "Bunky" Chafe, our hockey team has brought to North all the thrills and action of the world's fastest sport.

With each line a scoring threat, and boasting a formidable defense, such capable performers as Bob Richards, "Bunchie" Carroll, Walter Hannon, Bert Nogler, Fordie Pitts, and Bill Cobban have brought their team close to the top of North's sports schedule.

Future games are being scheduled by sponsor Roy Sinclair with such opponents as Whitman and Norwood to complete such a promising season. Hockey at North is rapidly taking the position it holds in other schools, and in future years should become a threat to the popularity of basketball.

With the advent of spring North's golf team is expected to maintain the high standard of previous seasons. Losing only Captain Don Meehan from last year's outstanding club, the team still has a complete sextet of standout performers with the return of Jimmie McNiece, Fordie Pitts, Ken Campbell, Bill MacCarthy, Bert Nogler, and Bob Richards.

Under the direction of Jack Donahue, the boys have a good chance for the Norfolk County League Championship. Although golf is one of the so-called minor sports, the high calibre of past teams has brought this year's team into the student's eye. The experience of the returning veterans could, in all probability, bring even another State Championship. This year the schedule includes such outstanding teams as Norwood, Needham, Brockton, Walpole, and Quincy. Good golf teams are becoming a tradition at North.

tennis

The approach of warm weather promises a stir of activity around the Montclair tennis courts as North prepares for its second tennis season. With a nucleus of five returning veterans North's second year of interscholastic tennis points to a banner season. Under the capable direction of Coach Roy Sinclair, this is becoming one of North's more popular sports. The number of candidates to greet Mr. Sinclair at the initial meeting was twice the number interested last year.

This season is expected to surpass the more mediocre record of last year's team—the first in a number of years. The one-two punch of Tommy Glover and Warren Andrews, backed up by such court veterans as Ronald Weir, Donald TenEyck, and John Caspole assures North of a good representation in this sport. A great deal of competition is expected for the six positions on the team.

Matches are being scheduled with such perennials as Quincy, Hingham, Braintree, Thayer, and possibly with Weymouth and Milton. In spite of such a difficult schedule, the tennis team should live up to North's superior standards.

Although comparatively unnoticed because of the school's excellent football team, North's first Cross-country team under the able coaching of Mr. Donald West, achieved almost as enviable a record. During the chill autumn afternoons, many Atlantic residents were astonished to see these boys in track suits running through the streets. This was the inauspicious beginning of a squad that was to run up a 4-1 record in South Shore competition and to place second only to Braintree in the annual South Shore Meet.

Led by Capt. "Buc" Powers and featuring such outstanding runners as Ken Layman, Irving Ayers, Paul Fisher, Louis Chinzi, Paul Murphy, and Gil Strobel, North defeated Quincy twice and Milton and Weymouth each once. The only loss was at the hands of Braintree's championship team. In the South Shore Meet bringing together Braintree, North, Milton, Weymouth, and Quincy, North finished a strong second.

As a first year team, North's Cross-country compiled an unusually good record. A great deal of credit should go to these runners and their coach for the long afternoons spent in running on their two and a half mile course. The return of captain-elect for next year, Ken Layman and two other veterans, point to a bright future for this—North's newest sport. Track has finally become a year round sport at North Quincy High School.

cheer leaders

Football! Basketball! Winter! Spring! No matter what the season our peppy cheerleaders are on hand to boost the players' morale. Although their first appearance each year is at the opening of our football season, they begin practicing as soon as school starts in order to gain that perfect coordination which everyone notices, friend and foe alike.

Bubbling over with vim and vigor, North's cheerleaders would naturally have something spectacular for the biggest athletic event of the year, the Thanksgiving Game. And what could have been more effective in making even the most indifferent fan sit up and take notice than the acrobatic and tumbling act that our enthusiastic eight had perfected? The pyramid was especially remarkable. How our cheerleaders could climb up on top of one another, hold that position, and then just flop without breaking at least a dozen bones is a feat to marvel at.

But before there was time for one more short cheer the football season was over and the basketball season was well under way. Along with new cheers to fit the season, these vivacious girls appeared in a stylish new outfit.

The cheerleaders really deserve a great deal of credit. Our sports events wouldn't be complete without them. They coordinate the cheers of the crowd and help display the fine spirit for which the school is noted. To Mr. Forest, coach; to Shirley Murnane, head cheerleader; to Jeanne Desmond, Janet Bauer, Barbara Kaulbeck, Jean Adams, Rita Marrocco, Betty Geary, and Gloria McCarthy goes a rousing, rollicking, roof-raising cheer!
